AYRADE

PRESS RELEASE

AYRADE, Algerian sovereign cloud operator, opens its capital to the Algiers Stock Exchange.

Algiers, April 26, 2026

AYRADE, an Algerian company specializing in sovereign cloud, data center integration, and sovereign cybersecurity, is opening 20% of its capital to the Algiers Stock Exchange from June 1 to 30, 2026. Founded in 2009, the company operates two data centers in Algeria and supports more than 10,000 Algerian businesses and institutions.

AYRADE announces the initial public offering (IPO) of a portion of its capital on the Algiers Stock Exchange (SGBV), following approval by the Commission for the Organization and Oversight of Stock Exchange Operations (COSOB) of the information memorandum bearing COSOB visa No. 2026/02 dated April 15, 2026. The subscription period runs from June 1 to 30, 2026. This operation marks the first IPO of an Algerian sovereign cloud provider.

Founded in 2009 by Mohamed Lamine BELBACHIR, AYRADE is an Algerian company specializing in sovereign cloud, data center integration, and sovereign cybersecurity. The company operates a sovereign cloud infrastructure from Algeria, with data hosted within the country. It designs and operates two integrated data centers with its own teams and runs a proprietary cybersecurity product (ASA: Ayrade Security Appliance), providing compliance audits, penetration testing, and resilience for sensitive information systems, benefiting operators in regulated sectors.

AYRADE currently supports over 10,000 Algerian companies and institutions in banking and insurance, telecommunications, public administration, energy, industry, healthcare, services, distribution, and education. The company is ISO 9001 certified and employs over 100 people.
This IPO comes in the context of growing structural demand for Algerian digital sovereignty: data hosting within the country, infrastructure operated under local control, and sovereign cybersecurity. The capital increase aims to accelerate AYRADE's industrial deployment to serve public institutions, businesses, and, more broadly, the Algerian economy.

The terms of the transaction, as detailed in the information memorandum approved by the COSOB, provide for the offering of 20% of the share capital, comprising 1,250,000 new shares issued at 800 Algerian dinars per share, representing a 7.56% discount to the current share price. The banking syndicate managing the placement is currently being formed; its composition will be announced shortly. “Tell Markets SPA” is acting as the stock market promoter, brokerage firm, and advisor. The transaction is open to individual investors, institutional investors, and AYRADE employees.

The information memorandum projects an average expected return of 9.45% over the business plan horizon, driven by the company's growth trajectory and a policy of regular shareholder distributions.

“The first IPO of an Algerian sovereign cloud operator, AYRADE, opens its capital to a digital services market poised to triple by 2030. We invite Algerian investors to participate, starting in June 2026, in the sovereign digital infrastructure that will drive the next decade of Algerian growth.”
